

Lars Binau

Lars Binau's educational background is an MBA in Strategy, Organization and Leadership from Copenhagen Business School. Besides that, he has an associate degree in accounting from Quincy College, Massachusetts, USA. He completed LIBER's Emerging leaders International development program for the leaders of tomorrow's libraries in 2016 and was in 2017 enrolled in DTU Computes Big Data Business Innovation program.

Through the last 13 years, Lars has been head of various departments within DTU Library at the Technical University of Denmark, and is presently in charge of student services at the library. Lars is especially dedicated to transforming the physical locations into state of the art learning environment that inforce and reframes innovation at the Technical University of Denmark. Within the vision for this ongoing project, the strategic aim is to expand the DTU Media Lab and transform the library to a SMART Library – an indoor IOT living lab.
